Summary

I am a Political and Data Scientist who is passionate about the academic goal to pursue new knowledge. Because of that, I combine Political and Data Analysis with Computing. This allows me to build a strong background in Statistic and Geographic Information Systems.

I have a demonstrated history of more than 15 years of leading projects in the Public Sector, and more than 7 years in the Academic sector, teaching and researching.

I have also been working as Consultant for international organizations which offer me the possibility to grow my skills in Collaboration, Adaptability, Negotiation, Solve problem and Leading.

I am currently seeking new challenges and opportunities, so if you would like to work together, contact me.

I am responsible for the development of the SiGI (Integral Management System) for the General Direction of Programming at DPV. This include internal coordination and coordination with other divisions and governmental organism.

I work together with the Planning Direction to upgrade the Vial Inventory, we georeference trace and objects to update it. This include data collection in fieldwork and post process to obtain geographical objects compatible with international norms and standards (ISO 19100, 19115, 19139 e ISO/TC 211).

I am the nexus between the DPV and other governmental organism. I represent the DPV in front of the National Comission of Spatial Activities, where I advise to acquire products from satellite images. Also, I am part of a special commission between the DPV and the Cadastre Service and Land Information, where we update the geographic information which affect physical, legal and economically the properties in the province.
